

Please, your attention! Here you can find all the important information about the rules exam procedure of the discipline "Propaedeutics of internal diseases."

The exam of the propaedeutics of internal diseases for the students "General Medicine" of the 3 course in the summer session of the 2019/2020 academic year will be conducted in a remote format.

Students who have no academic debt by the discipline "Propaedeutics of internal diseases" are allowed to the exam. Students must have a credit after the 5th semester by the propaedeutics of internal diseases, have no any omissions and unsatisfactory grades by the classes in the 6th semester, score 7.0 (70%) or more points in the final testing by the propaedeutics of internal diseases.

The exam by the propaedeutics of internal diseases is carried out in two stages.

The first stage is carried out by testing in the Moodle distance learning system at ChSU (a link to the test will be available immediately before the exam). Students who score 7.0 (70%) or more without further passing the second stage receive the mark "satisfactory" ("three").

If the student decides to proceed to the second stage of the exam, then he loses the right to assess "satisfactory" obtained in the first stage.

The second stage is held as a video conference in Zoom or Skype, where 2 questions from the list of exam questions will be asked (published on the department's website) and also 1 electrocardiogram for analysis and conclusion will be offered. According to the results of the 2nd stage, the student receives the following marks: "unsatisfactory" ("not passed"), "satisfactory" ("three"), "good" ("four"), "excellent" ("five").

This information was discussed and approved at a meeting of the department of propaedeutics of internal diseases with a course of radiation diagnostics (No. 7 of 05.27.2020).
