

On May 27, 2021, in the assembly hall of the Faculty of Medicine, a meeting was held with English-speaking students of the third year of the specialty "General Medicine" with the participation of the Deputy Dean for English-speaking students, Candidate of Medical Sciences, Drandrova E.G., teachers of the Department of Propaedeutics of Internal Diseases with a course of radiation diagnostics.

During the meeting, issues of discipline, preparation for the summer session were discussed, diplomas were awarded to the winners and prize-winners of the 55th International Scientific Student's Conference on Technical, Humanities and Natural Sciences in the section "Propaedeutics of Internal Diseases with a Course of Radiation Diagnostics in English", as well as prize-winners of the Olympiad. The teachers wished the students successful preparation for the exams, further creative success.

